DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-6 are drawn to a detector comprising at least a first reagent pixel, classified in class 436, subclass 518.
- II. Claims 7-8 are drawn to a detector comprising moving a droplet across an array, classified in class 436, subclass 164.
- III. Claims 9-13 are drawn to a detector comprising a plurality of electrodes, classified in class 436, subclass 169.
- IV. Claim 14 is drawn to a method of detection, classified in class 435, subclass 4.
- V. Claims 15-17 are drawn to a detector comprising nanostructures separated by a distance, classified in class 435, subclass 288.4.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

1. Inventions of each of groups I-III and V are patentably distinct. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01).

In the instant case the different inventions have different effects. The detector of group I requires a first droplet of liquid, which is not required of the detector of group II. The detector of group I requires a means for moving a first droplet of liquid across a first nanostructures surface, which is not required of the detectors of groups III or V. The detector of group II requires a means for moving a droplet across an array of pixel reagents, which is not required of the detectors of groups I, III or V. The detector of group III requires a plurality of electrodes, which is not required of the detectors of groups I, II, or V. The detector of group V requires the nanostructures to be separated from each other by a first separation distance, which is not required of the detectors of groups I-III.

2. Inventions of a) each of groups I-III and V and b) group IV are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case each of the products of groups I-III and V can be used in a materially different process such as a process of separation.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. A telephone call was made to Mr. David Herring on December 12, 2005 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
